“Adam yehidi nivra” are Hebrew words that mean “every person is a unique creation.”

Some people walk and some use wheelchairs. Some people talk and some use sign language. These are just a couple of ways that people may be different.

It's great to get to know all kinds of friends!

Friends have some things in common--and some ways that they are different.

It's important to think about how you like to be treated and treat your friends that way. Be kind!

When you take time to understand friends who are different from you, you are showing kindness/hesed. That is an important Jewish value!
